I am going to State Theatre New Jersey in New Brunswick to see a show!
I will be going to the show with

We will have a lot of fun!
At the show I will see a woman named Julie Pasqual. Julie will tell some funny stories.
I will go to the theater in a car.

I will get out of the car in front of the theater.

Or we will park nearby and walk to the theater.
I will go into the theater.
I will be in the lobby.

A helper called an usher will take my ticket and tell me where to go next.
I will walk up the stairs to the second floor.

The second floor looks like this.

There will be a bathroom close by I can use if I need to.
Then I will go up a few more stairs into another room.

I will see the show in this room.

I can sit on a chair to watch the show.

Or I can sit on the floor.

There will be other people watching the show.
If I get scared or things are too loud, I can cover my ears, use my iPad or my headphones, or squeeze a toy.

Or I can go take a break in a quiet area where I can sit, color, or do something else.
Before the show starts, someone will come out to talk.

They will say that we will get milk and a chocolate chip cookie after the show!

I will stay in my seat and listen while the person is talking.
Then the show will start.

Julie will come out and say hello to everybody.

She is very silly and funny!
Julie will sing a song.

She will tell some stories.

I will stay in my seat. I will watch and listen to Julie while she is singing and telling stories.
Julie will tell a story about a little girl.

The little girl has lots of fun folding a piece of paper into different shapes, like a boat or a hat.
Julie will tell a story about a farmer and a carrot.

The carrot is so big, the farmer can’t pull it out of the ground!

The farmer gets some different animals to help pull out the carrot.
Julie will ask for people to come onstage and pretend to be the different animals pulling on the carrot.

If I want to go onstage and pretend to be an animal, I will raise my hand and wait patiently for Julie to choose me.
If Julie chooses me, I will do what she tells me.

Julie might not choose me go onstage.
    And that’s okay.
Julie will say when the show is over.

I can applaud to show Julie I liked her show.
Then I will go down the stairs to the lobby.

In the lobby, I will get some milk and a cookie!
Then I will leave the theater and go home.

Going to a show is so much fun!
ENJOY THE SHOW!
